

Happy Christmas here after soldier's bout with death

Christmas 1977 was one of the most joyous ever for Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Russell, 2637 E. 27th St., whose holiday guests included their daughter, Cynthia, and her fast-recovering husband, Specialist-4 Marvin T. Tucker, a victim of sudden heart arrest on an airplane flight Oct. 24. Among those mentioned prominently in the family's Christmas prayers were the American Red Cross and the ARC's Tri-City Chapter. Spec. Tucker's life was saved thanks to the presence on the flight of a woman trained in Red Cross cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) technique. And the chapter was instrumental in relaying information to the family after the plane's emergency landing in Gander, Newfoundland. The serviceman spent a convalescent leave here with his wife and parents-in-law before departing yesterday for Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D.C. His next assignment will follow completion of his recovery.

Son of Mrs. Buck Roebuck, a former Granite Cityan now residing in Clanton, Ala., Spec. Tucker had been stationed with the U.S. Army in Germany this year. He came home on a 30-day leave, during which he and the former Miss Cynthia K. Russell were married. It was during the return trip to Germany that he was stricken suddenly and was admitted to a civilian hospital, James Paton Hospital, in Newfoundland. The Russell family received its initial notification that a telephone call at midnight Oct. 24. The day after a doctor had talked to the family, the Russells also received a phone call from Gander by the woman credited with saving the soldier's life. She is a civilian U.S. government employee in the Recreation Center Services Division at Headquarters, U.S. Army, Berlin.

Miss Frankart had received Red Cross CPR training and was a volunteer Red Cross teacher of those skills. She called to ask whether the local family had received any further word on the serviceman's condition.

She recalled that he had seemed "perfectly well," but while returning from a washroom during the flight he suddenly collapsed with cardiac arrest.

Miss Frankart worked with him for an hour and a half, during which he had three separate heart arrests. She continued giving CPR aid until the plane landed and he was hospitalized.

The American Red Cross plans to award her the certificate of merit for saving his life. Details of the assistance were verified with medical flight attendant reports.

At the time of her phone call, the Russells were too excited to obtain her name, and could not remember that she had mentioned her Red Cross training.

"The local chapter contacted the Red Cross in Berlin. That office in turn found the woman and secured her permission to release the information," Mrs. Mildred Meehan, executive director of the Tri-City Chapter, said Friday.

"This seems to be a happy ending for the family, and it points up the need for CPR training. If the individual had not been trained, authorities believe he would not have survived the flight."

Mrs. Meehan continued, "The family here received the initial call from Dr. Kelly, calling from the hospital in Newfoundland."

"He told them he was a civilian doctor but that the plane carrying servicemen had landed so that Spec. Tucker could be hospitalized."

"He was in critical condition and was placed under intensive care. He apparently was hospitalized, and the doctor wanted to know if the wife could share any medical background with him, due to his unfamiliarity with the patient."

"She gave what information she could, and also gave the doctor the phone number of his family in Alabama."

"The Russells called the local Red Cross that night shortly after the call. They were upset, not only wanting continuing medical reports but also voicing concern that the military might be unaware of the illness due to the selection of a civilian hospital."

Hope to end precinct boundaries confusion

Revision of the voting precincts in Granite City's seven wards so that their boundaries coincide with those of county and township precincts will be studied by a special committee which is expected to be named this week by Mayor Paul Schuler.

Decision to proceed with such a study and the implementation of such a program when new boundaries are established was reached by City Council members last week on a motion by Ronald Coleman, alderman of the Seventh Ward.

Coleman is among several aldermen advocating precinct changes as a result of confusion that developed in a speedi referendum last Oct. 4 in which hundreds of voters did not know where to go to cast their ballots.

City precinct polling places are different than county precincts used in general elections, such as the primary election scheduled March 21 next year.

In a motion that action be taken immediately to determine new boundaries, Coleman said that he did not believe it was fair to voters "to go to a half dozen different places to the precinct in which they are eligible to vote."

Following the October balloting on a proposition for the elective or appointive status of the city street superintendent, city officials proposed a program "to educate the public" in the difference between city and county polling places.

Adding to the confusion in that election was the change in the number of city precincts, while the county also had raised the number of its precincts in Granite City Township, sending out new voter identification cards. Many voters confused the precinct number on the "county" card with the number of the precinct in which they were supposed to vote.

Following Coleman's motion to inaugurate action for precinct revision, Alderman Charles Douglas amended the motion to provide that Mayor Schuler be authorized to name a special three-man committee from among the aldermen to make the study and submit recommendations to the council.

The amendment motion carried, as did Coleman's motion that the study be made. Some aldermen are opposed to any changes in precinct arrangements as they now are. Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said he will oppose any revision that would change the precincts in his ward.

Voters opposing the motion for redistricting also were cast by Aldermen Roy Poulos of the Third Ward and Everett Morken of the First Ward.

Mr. York is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pauline York, three sons, James of Collinsville, Ronald of Big Springs, Tex., and Larry of Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Betty) Jean Reynolds of Mishawaka, Ind., and Miss Betty Ann York, of Granite City.

Also three brothers, Gilbert of Jonesboro, Ill., Troy and Roy, both of Granite City. Another brother, Otto York, preceded him in death in 1976. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Lockley of Granite City and Mrs. Leonard (Mary) Aberneth of Wolf Lake; 14 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Dies Christmas Eve after falling from roof

James L. York, 61, of 2808 E. 25th St., died in Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, at 1:30 a.m. Saturday, following a fall from the roof of his home while he was working on a television aerial.

Mr. York suffered the fall at 9:30 a.m. Friday. An autopsy was to be made to determine the cause of death. He suffered severe head injuries in the fall. Mr. York was born in Grand Tower, Ill., and lived in Granite City 35 years, moving here from Wolf Lake, Ill.

He retired at Granite City Steel in 1972 after working there 30 years as a crane man. He was of the Protestant faith and was a member of Masonic Lodge 677, AF&AM, of which he was tyler.

He also belonged to Almad Temple, Tri-City Shrine Club, Low Twelve, York Rite, Knights Templar and United Steelworkers Union Local 67. He was treasurer of CBERT, an organization of citizens band radio operators, and was a member of the Civil Defense organization.

American Steel leadership change

Mitchell B. Milonksi will be succeeded by William P. Donovan on Jan. 1 as works manager of the Granite City plant of Amsted Industries' American Steel Foundries, Milonksi said Friday.

Works manager since 1972, Milonksi is retiring but plans to remain active in this community, including participation as a member of the governing board of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He has been with American Steel since 1935, when he started as a wood pattern maker apprentice. He advanced to assistant works manager in 1963.

Milonksi has headed the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association and Tri-Cities Area United Way. He and his wife reside in Florissant and have one son.

Donovan, who was vice-chairman of this fall's United Way campaign, has held the position of assistant works manager of the American Steel plant, which is one of the world's largest producers of railroad freight car structural parts.

A graduate with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Cornell University, he holds a master of business administration from Washington University and a master of science in metallurgical engineering from the University of Missouri-Rolla.

Donovan and his wife have four children.

A member of Beta Gamma Sigma, he has served as chairman of the St. Louis District Chapter of the American Foundrymen's Society.

Fires believed due to arson

Police are investigating the cause of two fires reported by Granite City firemen Friday afternoon as possible cases of arson.

Officers said firemen called them to the scene of a garage fire at 2720 Iowa St. at 2:25 p.m. and informed them that the fire apparently was started by someone who piled trash against the garage and ignited it.

Firemen also told officers that similar circumstances were involved in another fire a short time earlier at 2723 Myrtle Ave. Several other fires that apparently were set in the 2200 block of Grand Avenue also are involved in the investigation.

Weather outlook

Partly cloudy today with chance of snow flurries. High in the low 20s. Clear tonight with low about 10. Partly cloudy Wednesday. High in the 30s. Warming trend Thursday through Saturday with lows in the 20s on Thursday, rising to the 30s by Saturday. Highs in the 40s Thursday, rising to the 50s by Saturday. Little or no chance of precipitation during the period.

HOLIDAY REUNION. Army Specialist and Mrs. Marvin Tucker are shown Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Russell. He is recuperating from cardiac arrest.

$4½ million ruling

The wheels of justice move slowly, but they are moving in the multi-million-dollar personal injury case of Thomas Hooks, 24, of Venice.

He was injured in Washington, D.C., during the summer of 1971. Although the U.S. District Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C., on Thursday upheld a $4½ million settlement, an appeal to the United States Supreme Court is expected.

Even if the highest court of the land refuses to hear the case, it will still be several months before Hooks receives any money from the suit; interest has been accumulating in escrow fund.

Hooks, who was 18 at the time of the accident, was representing Explorer Post 10-4 of Madison at a National Explorer Scout Presidents Association convention, held at the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington.

While at the conference, he went swimming in the hotel pool and was diving from a nine-and-a-half-foot diving board when he struck his head on the bottom of the eight-foot-deep pool.

Several veterans in the cervical cord were crushed and he has been crippled from the neck down ever since. He is expected to be confined to a bed and a wheel chair for the rest of his life.

Defendants in the trial are the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington and the ITT Sheraton Hotel Corporation. The appeals court upheld a 1975 trial and approved $4.5 million for Hooks and $120,000 for his parents, Harlin and Mildred Hooks. The $6 million and $1 million, respectively.

The jury trial in 1975 held the hotel liable because it replaced a wooden diving board with a fiberglass board that allegedly propelled Hooks too far into shallow water.

Rex Carr of East St. Louis, attorney for Hooks, said tests showed the diving board to be the wrong size for the depth of the pool.

The amount of the original awards was reduced by the trial judge.

According to Carr, the more than $5 million now upheld, including interest, is the largest sum ever awarded one defendant in such a case.

Since the accident happened in the nation's capital, the case has been handled by federal courts.

Hooks spent nearly a year in a Washington hospital, unable to move to a St. Louis hospital because of his injuries.

Deputies await hearing verdicts

Decisions by the Madison County Sheriff Department Merit Commission on the status of two suspended deputies are being awaited following the completion of hearings last week.

Both Richard Anderson and Randall Lamb are among the deputies who have cooperated with a year-long federal investigation of allegations about the department.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents were among those attending the hearings. No outcome of federal grand jury activity has been announced in Springfield.

Lamb was tried for possible merit board rule violations related to the incurring of personal debts.

Sheriff John Maeras was the final witness in the hearing for Anderson, who was accused of insubordination based on conversations critical of the sheriff, and of violent behavior. Strong denials of all supposed violations of rules were voiced, and some charges were dropped, with others taken under study by the commission following lengthy testimony at Edwardsville last week.

Deputies and former deputies were part of the audience.

The hearings appeared to widen friction between various members of the department.

Anderson is not seeking reelection as sheriff in 1978. A woman described as a key witness against Anderson was unable to testify, it was ruled. She was alleged to have been struck by him, while the defense said she was hurt in an auto crash.

The other Anderson issue, affidavits allegedly made in a tavern, led to questioning related to the sheriff's public image.

Lamb was queried about a

Optimism, pessimism on business in 1978

By RICHARD L. LESHNER, President, U.S. Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Interest in our first business confidence survey has been strong that I feel an obligation to provide readers with some of the details. The survey was conducted jointly with the Gallup Organization.

Questionnaires were sent to 2,000 chief executives and 1,750 business owners. Of those, 84 percent or more expected the next two years to be good.

On the other hand, 84 percent see their own company's sales increasing over the next four years, and 53 percent expect before-tax profits to be up, too.

Why, then, the pessimism? The answer is government intervention in the economy, present and prospective.

More than half of the respondents expect the government to do a "poor job" during the next year or two in its "economic policies to fight inflation and unemployment."

Federal regulations are cited as another major problem for business, one likely to get worse. Seventy-two percent say that federal "red tape" is now taking up "much more" of their company's time and money than two years ago. And a major concern is government regulations to cause serious check said to have been written despite insufficient funds, and also the failure to pay his bills and loans were paid.

Attorney Ben Allen served as a legal advisor to the merit commission regarding Lamb, Rod Pitts aided the board at the Anderson hearing. Assistant State's Attorney Mike Thompson represented Sheriff Maera, and Attorney Jack Strellis represented the two suspended deputies.

In Sheriff Maera's appearance, he stressed his belief that the department cannot tolerate insubordination or lack of adherence to rules.

Objections prevented efforts by the defense attorney to link the disciplinary action to the federal investigation.

The two defendants are not the only ones who have testified in Springfield, Ill. was noted. Strellis contended that debts were related to the Lamb's loss of their mobile home and belongings in a 1975 fire. Insurance coverage failed by the state to offset the losses, it was asserted.

It was brought out that one of the witnesses testifying against Anderson and another person was Miss Barbara Henke, described as a sister of Detective Robert Henke, who participated in the department investigation of Anderson.

The merit commission consists of Clyde Donham, Joseph Gruenfelder and Erwin Pledge. Pledge, of Bethalto, said today the board will be called into session after Chairman Anderson returns here from a holiday vacation tomorrow.

Rules call for the accused to be notified within five days after a decision, by mail, and for the decision to be rendered within 15 days of a hearing.

Rites held for Mrs. Rozycke

Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. Saturday at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church for Mrs. Julia (Kutza) Rozycke, 82, of 924 Washington Ave., Madison.

She died at 9:40 a.m. Thursday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, following a three-year illness.

Mrs. Rozycke was born in Wisconsin and had resided in Madison 66 years. She was a retired employee of the Madison Packing Co.

Her husband, Frank Rozycke, died Aug. 26, 1975.

Survivors include two sons, Raymond Rozycke of Belleville, and Frank Rozycke of Jacksonville, Ill.; two daughters, Mrs. Lorraine Gonterman of Granite City, and Mrs. Nellie Zarzecki of Caseyville; one brother, Louis Kutza of Madison, and a sister, Mrs. Veronice Plebanek of Granite City; nine grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Services held for Kenneth Jarboe

Funeral services were held Friday in Evansville, Ind., for Kenneth Jarboe, 61, the son of a former local resident and the nephew and cousin of several persons residing here.

Mr. Jarboe died Dec. 21 at an Evansville hospital, following an apparent heart attack.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Catherine Jarboe; five children, seven grandchildren; and his mother, Mrs. Matilda (Baumeyer) Jarboe of Evansville.

A brother, Ralph Jarboe, 68, died Aug. 15, 1977.

Attending the services from here were uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baumeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baumeyer and Mrs. Carrie Durrell, all of Granite City, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baumeyer of Coalinga, and cousin, Wayne Baumeyer and Frank E. Durrell, both of Granite City.

John Mushill, 64, succumbs

John Mushill, 64, of East St. Louis, formerly of Madison, died at 10:20 p.m. Saturday at Memorial Hospital, Belleville, where he had been a patient one month.

He was employed as a millwright at the Ralston Purina Co., St. Louis.

Mr. Mushill was a member of St. Philip Catholic Church and also belonged to the Knights of Columbus 992 of East St. Louis, the Ukrainian National Association, Lodge 308 and the Carpenters and Millwrights Local 62.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Stella (Karobey) Mushill; one daughter, Mary Ann Mushill, at home; three sons, John P. Mushill, Belmont, Cal.; Richard J. Mushill, West Plains, Mo.; and Edward F. Mushill, Vermillion, S.D.; three sisters, Mrs. Thomas (Ann) Latta Madison, Mrs. Robert (Mary) Gwin, Granite City, and Mrs. Pete (Rose) Jankowski, Lonsdale, Mo.; one brother, Raymond Mushill of East St. Louis; and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

"The doctor had indicated he didn't know how to contact the family. Adding to the family's burden was the fact that the Russells had known tragedy before. Their son, Robert Ray Russell, drowned July 7, 1975, while serving with the military.

"We tried to reassure them that they would receive good care and early that morning we contacted the Red Cross branch in Edwardsville to get them complete information, including verification of medical history and the name of a doctor at Cardinal Glennan Hospital for consultation if necessary.

"The serviceman in the past had suffered an attack of the Guillain Barre syndrome and had been hospitalized for many months at Glenwood.

"The national headquarters of the Red Cross contacted the Casualty Branch of the Army in Washington and relayed the information.

There is a U.S. Naval Hospital in Newfoundland, and he later was transferred there and then was medically evacuated to Walter Reed Hospital. He remains a patient there but, as shown by his visit here, is much improved."

Mrs. Mushill has been advised that the national Red Cross will publicize the case in its publication, "Good Neighbor," which is sent to chapters and Red Cross field directors in the U.S. and overseas.

She said the Red Cross chapter here is a "communication link between families here, the military and servicemen stationed in other locations."

"I find this work personally to be very rewarding. It is always a good feeling when there are happy endings to families' problems."

"Even when the situation is sad, such as the death of a close family member living in the Quad-Cities, it is reassuring to know that our local Red Cross can help ease things a bit by providing fast information, allowing a serviceman to come home on a leave.

"And, of course, the really happy years are birth messages to let a man know his wife and baby are fine."

"With improved communication service, it is possible for the chapter to send a wire to a serviceman wherever he is stationed, in America or abroad, and receive an answer for the family within 24 hours."

CAR ON BLOCKS TAKEN
The beige 1970 Lincoln Continental of Dennis Holman, 1910 E. 23rd St., was stolen from a vacant lot at 23rd Street and Grand Avenue, between 800 and 5 p.m. Friday, Holman reported Monday. He said the car was up on concrete blocks and could not be driven.

Optimism

problems in the next few years. Taxes are identified as a serious problem, especially by small-business executives. Great concern is expressed about "rising or rising" taxes at the state and local as well as the federal levels.

"High and rising prices for energy" will cause serious problems, according to 72 percent of the sample, while 53 percent are concerned about future "availability of energy and fuel."

There's not much optimism about government energy policy. Ninety-three percent of the respondents believe the Administration's proposed energy policy would result in some increase in energy costs to their companies, and 51 percent think the increase would be substantial.

Only 12 percent believe the energy policy would decrease costs. Fifty-one percent of the respondents, however, believe the Administration's proposed energy policy would result in some increase in energy costs to their companies, and 51 percent think the increase would be substantial.

One third consider the minimum wage a serious problem. One third expect more trouble from wage negotiations during the next few years than they did during the last two years.

One-fourth of the executives from large companies and two-thirds from small companies believe that wage-price controls are at least somewhat likely during the next year or two.

Forty-two percent expect "high or rising interest rates" to be a serious problem during the next few years, although only 16 percent put "availability of credit" into this class.

Most of the executives are not worried about is foreign investment in the United States. Ninety-one percent of those responding to the question anticipated either "no significant effect or a positive effect" from foreign investment here.

Among the firms that export, 39 percent expect their export sales to increase during the next 12 months, while 15 percent foresee a decrease. However, 34 percent of affected firms expect a significant decrease in export competition from imports, while only two percent expect a significant decrease in exports.

Some respondents tend to see this as a better time for short-range than long-range capital expenditures, although most prefer not to characterize the times as either "good" or "bad."

As for raising capital, there is a clear preference for bank loans, bonds or notes, over issues of stock.

This being the first of our business confidence surveys, we can't draw comparisons to earlier surveys. However, we may do some similar surveys in the future and, if so, comparisons will eventually become possible.

Boy collects funds, faces theft charge

A 14-year-old boy whom police found soliciting money in the 1600 block of Moro Avenue at 3:15 p.m. Friday was named as a juvenile complainant of theft.

Police said they were called to the neighborhood by a parent who became suspicious, and found the boy carrying a soda can on which a piece of paper had been attached and the words "Salvation Army" imprinted upon it.

Questioned by officers, the boy told them he was making the collection for the belligerent (Salvation Army) at K-Mart.

The belligerent, however, told police he had never seen the boy before.

The youngster's collections - all $2.00 - was tagged for evidence and later will be turned over to the Salvation Army police said. The boy was released to his parents.

State police not soliciting for magazine

Illinois State Police Superintendent Lynn E. Baird has just warned Illinois merchants to beware of persons claiming to represent the Illinois State Police in soliciting of ads for a police magazine.

"Our most recent complaint came from a plumbing company in the Peoria area," said Baird. The caller said he represented the "Illinois State Police Journal."

According to Baird, the caller wanted to know whether the company wished to run an ad in it again this year, indicating the firm had done business with the magazine last year. A review of the records showed the company had never purchased such an ad space previously.

"Our policy regarding advertising in the public for any cause, no matter how worthy it might be," Baird said, "We simply do not allow it."

"The Illinois State Police are not connected in any way with solicitations from the public for any cause, no matter how worthy it might be."

Baird said he suggested that businesses receiving such a solicitation report the incident to the nearest state police headquarters.

There is no need for a screening program to determine the extent of lead poisoning among Quad-City residents, Ted Eilerman, executive vice-president of St. Elizabeth Hospital, has informed Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler in a letter that was presented to the Council last week.

Eilerman explained that on the basis of medical tests and previous screening there had been no indications that a more extensive program is justified.

Mayor Schuler suggested the establishment of a clinic for testing area residents to determine if they have suffered any effects from lead pollutants that in the past four months there has been one case above normal lead level, and that value was not above the toxic level. A review of a year and one-half admissions indicated that there was one adult male admitted for toxic blood poisoning.

"The above information would seem to indicate at this time there is not a need for extensive lead poisoning testing. However, if the study being conducted by an agency of the state indicates an environmental problem causing a possible increase in the lead level of blood, then maybe there should be a re-evaluation."

Several aldermen criticized the television station after the letter was presented.

Eilerman's letter said: "I am writing you concerning your request that the hospital investigate the need for a general lead poisoning program because of the adverse publicity that has been given."

With ice accumulating in Iowa and at Nauvoo, Ill., the Mississippi River level is rising in this area after a relatively warm pre-Christmas week, the temperature dropped during the holiday weekend and was in the 20s and 30s this morning, with the wind-chill index at 15 below zero.

Area residents are being urged to donate blood today until 7 p.m. and Wednesday and Thursday between 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. at the Red Cross Blood-mob, located at St. Elizabeth Church, Johnson and Pontoon roads.

Anyone who is 17 years or over, weighs more than 110 pounds and is in good health is eligible to donate blood.

Donations obtained in the Quad-Cities primarily are used to produce blood platelets, a crucial blood component needed by cancer patients receiving chemotherapy. Without platelets, they cannot continue the treatment.

The platelets must be produced from blood donated at a collection site no further than an hour's drive from the Red Cross Regional Blood Center in St. Louis.

There, the blood is tested, typed, processed and the platelets are produced and transfused to the patient, all within 72 hours period.

The blood collected here also will replace vital blood supplies used during the holiday weekend, when the increased number of accidents results in more victims requiring transfusions to sustain life.

50-BED PSYCHIATRIC WING of St. Elizabeth Hospital is well above ground and some of the exterior walls have been poured, as shown in this view Thursday afternoon. The new wing is located behind the existing hospital complex. The newest addition to the hospital is L-shaped and is adjacent to Washington Avenue. Also under construction at the hospital is a four-level parking facility and a new boiler building on the southeast side of Washington Avenue. It is connected to the hospital by underground tunnels. A cafeteria also is planned for the near future.

Back Estes and Augustine

The screening committee of Madison County Democrats on Friday endorsed James Estes, Mitchell, for sheriff and James Augustine, Livingston, for county treasurer.

The recommendations will be considered by the county party's executive board.

Estes, 51, a former Chouteau Township highway commissioner, is a process server on the staff of the sheriff department. Augustine is a teacher.

In another development, Robert C. Stille withdrew as a candidate in the Democratic primary March 21 for county treasurer. Augustine and Mitchell Henkiau remain contenders for that nomination.

Sheriff candidates in the Democratic primary are Emil J. Toffant, Michael Vincent, Edward Voumard, Donald Vaughn and Estes.

Environmental agency cites high counts

The Illinois Environmental Agency said last week that Madison and St. Clair counties are two of 26 of the state's 102 counties currently being listed for air pollution levels exceeding national air quality standards.

Both counties are plagued by ozone problems, the state EPA said.

In addition, there is too much particulate in the air in Alton, Chouteau, Collinsville, Godfrey, Granite City, Nemo, Venice and Wood River townships in this county and in St. Clair's Canteen, Caseyville, Centerville, Stites, Stookley and Sugarloaf townships, the EPA reported.

State have until January 1979 to submit acceptable plans for meeting the federal standards. Meetings in affected counties are to begin in January to discuss ways to proceed.

Railroad to improve Beeler St. crossing

The Chicago & Northwestern Railroad has reversed its position on the Beeler Street crossing near Reville Lane in Nameki Township and has agreed to improve the crossing, according to a letter received by Nameki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Melchic this morning.

Melchic said there is about a two-foot drop-off on one side of the crossing which makes it impossible for most vehicles to cross without scraping bottom on the tracks. The railroad had decided to request permission from Melchic to repair the crossing.

In Perry's letter, he said the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad has reviewed the elevation problem and it is believed the main track has been raised over the years during maintenance operations.

The letter pledged the railroad will raise the siding to the elevation of the track, as soon as the weather permits.

Steeler grapplers split

It was an up-and-down series of meets for the North Stealers Thursday and Friday nights as they prepared for the South Holiday Tournament.

The "up" came Thursday night at Belleville East. The Stealers defeated the Lancers 33-18 to raise their dual-meet record to 7-1.

The results Thursday were: 96 pounds-Gerald Miller (N) defeated Mike Geller (L) 17-4, 105-Bob Kirgan (N) pinned Chris Cagas (L) 2:20, 112-Brett Smith (M) pinned Jay Lindenmeyer (L) 3:20, 118-Kris Whelan (N) pinned John Walderon (L) 2:20, 126-Kevin Shewell (N) lost to Mike Luebbers (L) 12-7, 132-Alan Kirgan (N) lost to Paul Graves, 138-Stevie Haeffner (N) lost to Mark Suklivan 12-11.

145-Ray Stuart (N) defeated Ray Smith 5-2, 155-Stevie Hartline (N) defeated Tom Mercurio 9-0, 167-Jerry Broadwater (N) defeated Mark Peterson 10-7, 185-Doug Harris (BE) pinned Dave Moslin (L) 4:09, heavyweight Blake Peterson (BE) defeated Tim Wyrstek (N) 2-1.

The Steeler junior varsity also took a decision from Belleville East, defeating the Lancers 38-24.

FRIDAY NIGHT, however, things didn't go quite as well for the Stealers. They were beaten by a tough Parkway West squad, 20-22.

"We had a couple of guys who didn't wrestle very well and that was the difference in the meet," said Steeler Coach Walt Whitaker. "Those six points could have been made up in those two matches."

"Parkway's rated as one of the best in St. Louis, so they were a pushover... that's for sure."

The results Friday against Parkway West were: 96 pounds-Gerald Miller (N) defeated Mark Luchesse 4-1, 105-Rich Shannahan (PW) defeated Bob Kirgan (N) 7-5, 112-Brett Smith (N) pinned Dave Andres (L) 3:32, 118-Kris Whelan (N) pinned

Kurt Stauder (L) 3:30, 126-Bruce Frankendorf (PW) defeated Kevin Shewell (N) 4-1, 132-John Bay (PW) defeated Alan Kirgan 3-2, 138-Tom Hollerback (PW) pinned Stevie Haeffner (N) 5:53, 145-Ray Stuart (N) defeated Dave Goldsmith 12-2, 155-Stevie Hartline (N) defeated Steve Sines 12-3, 167-Jerry Broadwater (N) lost to Rich Stephens 11-8, 185-Dave Moulton (N) was pinned by Tom Schoenke (PW) 4:40, heavyweight-Jim Barr (PW) topped Tim Wyrstek (N) 12-4.

The North junior varsity fared a little better than did their varsity counterparts. They defeated Parkway West 41-18.

The next activity for the 7-2 Steeler grapplers will be this Wednesday and Thursday in the Granite City South holiday tournament.

Do-it-yourself retirement planning and take advantage of latest tax breaks and new enlarged benefits

What the Law provides:

If you are not actively participating in a tax-qualified pension or profit sharing plan where you work, a First Bank IRA program (Individual Retirement Account) can offer you a way to build a substantial retirement fund, with important tax-saving advantages!

Tax-saving advantages:

Each year you can deposit up to 15% of your earned income, but not exceeding $1,500 yearly. Your deposits as well as interest earned is tax free until your retirement payments begin, when you will be in a lower tax bracket.

Your spouse can participate:

The $1,500 a year limit increases to $1,750 yearly, if the account is shared by a spouse who does not work for pay. Where husband and wife both work, they can (if both are eligible) open separate IRA accounts for a maximum tax-free set-aside of $3,000 yearly.

How it works:

You can deposit a lump sum once a year—or deposit smaller amounts periodically if you prefer. Your funds will begin earning tax exempt interest at the rate of 7% per year from date of deposit. Keep in mind that the sooner you start, the earlier your savings begin to earn and grow.

How do I start?

Visit me, Harley Davis, at your convenience. I will be happy to answer any questions you have and open your IRA account, but, do it soon.

You have until December 31 to start your Individual Retirement Account. Otherwise, you can lose major tax-savings!

Jaws— of life

"JAWS OF LIFE" hands-on and classroom training by members of the Granite City Fire Department involves the simulation of accident scenes, utilizing old junk cars, and the basic operation of the Hurst rescue tool.

At the right, Jim Strack, an engineer, "frees" the instructor, John Rodcay, partially hidden by the tool.

At the lower left, Rodcay, chief of the crash crew at Lambert-St. Louis International Airport, explains the mechanics and operation of the rescue tool.

Fire Department Capt. James Reiter (lower right) helps demonstrate use of the tool in opening a locked car door. The tool has a usable force of 12,000 pounds. The training was held for three days last week at the main fire station, 23rd Street and Madison Ave.

$200 cash, $200 warranty for engine substitutions

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott, joined by Ohio Attorney General William J. Brown and Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, last week announced the largest single consumer recovery in history—an approximately $40 million nationwide settlement fund which General Motors Corporation has agreed to pay to car purchasers who were delivered 1977 Oldsmobile, Buick or Pontiac automobiles with substituted Chevrolet engines.

Corporate officials, Attorneys General Brown and Kelley and 42 other attorneys general joined Scott in signing the agreement, which was formalized at a special meeting Monday on the main floor of the Dirksen Federal Building in Chicago.

Scott had filed a national class action suit March 18, 1977, and on Oct. 13 was appointed national class representative of all consumers who would be entitled to a recovery.

Scott's suit was the first class action suit filed under a new federal law—the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act. Other federal suits filed subsequently throughout the country have been transferred to the Federal Court in Chicago for consolidation with Scott's prior action.

Under last week's pact, each of the more than $3,000 persons nationwide who purchased cars with substitute engines prior to April 10, 1977, will receive $400 compensation—$200 in cash and $200 in the form of a 36-month car insurance warranty.

Scott emphasized that the total amount of the settlement will go to the affected purchasers and that no attorney fees will be deducted to reduce the actual recovery.

In addition, General Motors will pay $150,000 into an Attorney General's fund covering litigation expenses leading up to the settlement.

Among those sharing in the settlement fund will be 7,641 Illinois purchasers who will receive GM checks from Scott's office.

The agreement was reached through the cooperative efforts of attorneys general throughout the country after nearly six months of negotiation.

Two are injured

Lloyd S. Lewis, 58, and Mary E. Lewis, 57, of 3314 Johnson Road, were injured in an auto accident last week and were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mrs. Lewis was admitted with an injury to her nose and chest pain. Her husband was x-rayed for pain to his neck and both elbows and he was released.

Darletha Angle is betrothed

The engagement of Miss Darletha Sue Angle and John Anderson Lesar Jr., is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Angle Sr., of Granite City.

Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. John Lesar Sr., reside in Thebes, Ill. Miss Angle is a junior student at Granite City High School North.

Her fiancé was graduated in 1976, from Egyptian High School in Tammis, Ill., and is presently serving with the U.S. Navy in Norfolk, Va.

Wedding plans are incomplete at the present time.

Opti-Mrs. hear Mrs. Gordon

Mrs. Ruth Sternberg, Mrs. Lorain Ranft and Mrs. Suzanne Brooks, were hostesses for the December luncheon meeting of the noon-Day Opti-Mrs. Club, last week, held at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Marge O'Neill, president was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. Lydia Nelson gave the invocation. Mrs. Tomasa Kirchhoff led the club creed followed by the roll call answered by 24 members.

Various reports were submitted by Elsie Henley, Louise Anderson, Pat Tonzen and Mrs. Ranft.

Mrs. Tonzen read a Christmas greeting from Cheryl Smith, a student nurse at Jewish Hospital, who is sponsored by the club.

The birthday song was sung to Mrs. Henley and the president then introduced Mrs. Marcia Buenger as a new member.

After the business session, Mrs. Sternberg presented Mrs. Marie Gordon who reviewed the book, "Two from Galilee" by Marjorie Holmes.

Gifts were exchanged and prizes awarded to Virginia Johns, Gladys Pape, Myra Parrish, Ella Odum, Georgetta Monical. Others present were Edna Bickel, Mildred Branding, Dorothy McCauley, Judy Duley, Bobbie Roach, Helen Todd and Muriel Veihl.

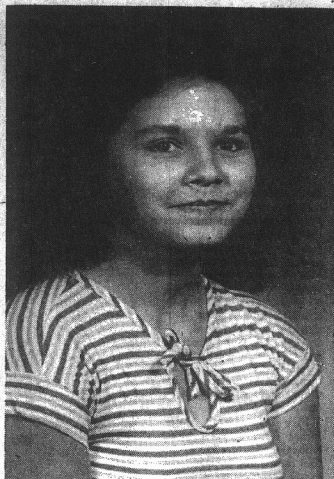

Mrs. Avis Moore is club hostess

Mrs. Avis Moore, 2930 E. 25th St., served a noon dinner to members of the We Five Club, in observance of the holiday season, last week.

During the afternoon games were played and gaily wrapped packages were exchanged.

Honors in the games went to Edith Young, Della Hagan, the hostess and Fern Johnson, a guest.

Also present was Mrs. Caroline Lux. Mrs. Young invited the group to meet in her home, 2309 Kirkpatrick Homes on Jan. 6.

BRIDE-ELECT. Miss Darletha Sue Angle fiancée of John Anderson Lesar Jr. Their engagement is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Angle Sr., of Granite City. Wedding plans are incomplete at the present time.

Christmas customs is chapter topic

"Christmas Around the World" was the topic of cultural program presented by Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver and Mrs. Jane Laule at a yuletide meeting of Precceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, last week.

The chairmen led a round table discussion on Christmas customs and traditions around the world with the members participating in the program.

Mrs. May Ebling, 2910 Denver St., was hostess to the December meeting held in her home. Presiding at the business session was Mrs. Pat Tsigalaroff, president and Miss Ruth Stoyanoff, secretary, read her report.

Service Chairman Arlene Haldeman announced a

Christmas basket filled with packages and canned foods, donated by the members, will be delivered to the chapter adopted family for Christmas.

Chapter members joined hands for the closing ritual. Mrs. Tsigalaroff represented Santa Claus and "Beta buddy" gifts were exchanged. A holiday buffet was served from a table centered with a punch bowl and surrounded by the traditional red and green salads, which set the holiday motif.

Those present were Lora Mae Lombardi, Norma Rains, Imogene Forrest, Dolores Byrnes, Gloria Jean Druke, Martha Jean Dyer, Bea Brackett, Dolores Dorch and those named.

Maud Tolleson class installs

Installation of newly elected officers of the Maud M. Tolleson Sunday School class of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, were conducted at the class Christmas party.

Arrangements for the event, held at the Grand Cafe last week, were completed by Mrs.

Mary Ahlvers, class president. Mrs. Bethel Davis was in charge of the installation for Mrs. Ahlvers, president; Emma Schoen, vice-president; Mabel Stewart, treasurer; Mary Hiller, recording secretary; Norma Cheternam, class secretary; and Myrtle Draper, flower chairman.

Also for Katherine Van Order, card secretary; Nelle Hart, stamp secretary, and teachers Lucy Weaver, Mrs. Ahlvers and Mrs. Schoen.

A letter was read from a former assistant pastor, the Rev. E. V. Campbell and daughter, Clarice, who now reside in Florissant, Mo.

Mrs. Ahlvers read a poem entitled, "A Friendly Thought for Each Day of the Year" and "Rules for Daily Life." Mrs. Olga Tierney presented a thoughtful recitation.

A gift exchange was held and the members agreed to deliver gifts to shut-in members before Christmas.

Others attending were Susie Kniffen, Geneva Wallis, Pearl Campbell, Alice Cruse, Milford Cundiff, Paula Smith, and Ella Ray Smith.

In closing the members sang several Christmas carols.

Park 19 party held at school

A Christmas party was held last week at Washington School for members of Cub Scout Pack 19. Webelos Alan Walker, Jay Huber, Mark Siers, Robert Cornett and Lester White Jr., presented the colors to open the meeting.

Den leader Gloria Huber presented awards to Eric Smith, Larry Grooms and Jake Varadian, and Mrs. Barbara Varadian, den leader, awarded denner cords to Larry Grooms and John Varadian.

Mrs. Varadian led the group in singing Christmas carols until the arrival of Santa Claus, who gave each of the children a gift.

Imports battering pig iron industry

Much attention has been focused on the import problems of the nation's steel producers. Another segment of the iron and steel industry also has been severely battered by heavy foreign competition — the nation's merchant pig iron producers.

They export imports to account for about 30 percent of their product this year. It would mark the third year in a row in which merchant pig iron imports reached this level. Foreigners accounted for 30.5 percent of U.S. merchant pig iron supply in 1976, and 35.5 percent in 1975.

Imports of this product, used to produce castings that go into heavy equipment, machine tools, and a variety of valves and fittings, have significantly increased their share of the domestic market in the past few months.

In October, foreigners accounted for nearly 42 percent of the available merchant pig iron. According to Frank G. Joliffe, president of the Hams Furnace Co. and chairman of the Merchant Pig Iron Producers Ad Hoc Committee on Imports, "The merchant pig iron industry has been suffering from predatory foreign marketing practices for more than a decade."

"During the past ten years, eight major merchant pig producers in this country have gone out of business. There are now only six domestic producers left."

"Our industry has tried to combat this unfair foreign competition by availing itself of remedies prescribed by our laws. In 1968 and 1971, for example, it won major anti-dumping cases against several foreign producers."

"Despite all our efforts, our industry continues to be eroded by predatory foreign competition. We hope that whatever the federal government does to combat such practices in the foreign sale of steel mill products in this country will also apply to merchant pig iron imports."

Two countries — Brazil and Canada — have accounted for nearly three quarters of this year's merchant pig iron imports, with roughly 37 percent of the total apiece.

Sweex, somewhat more than 15 percent of the import total, is the next largest shipper of merchant pig iron into this country.

Nearly 47 percent of all merchant pig iron imports so far this year have entered the country through the Great Lakes-Canadian Border region. Atlantic Coast ports took somewhat more than 30 percent of such imports, while another 18 percent arrived along the Gulf Coast and Mexican Border.

Mary Francis Moss (Brown) and James Clifford Moss, both of Granite City. They were married Aug. 25, 1969, and separated in February, 1977. Custody of two children was granted to the mother.

Youth arrested on burglary warrant

Robert C. Benson, 20, of 2015 Washington Ave., was arrested last week on a warrant from St. Louis County alleging burglary.

An officer said he was directing traffic around an accident at 28th Street and Madison Avenue and one driver was honking his horn repeatedly. The officer knocked twice on the driver's window, but the man refused to roll down the window and drove away.

He was stopped nearby and police ran a computer check on him which indicated he was being sought by St. Louis County officials.

MR. AND MRS. JEFFREY D. EAVES, who were married in an evening ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Madison. The bride is the former Miss Pamela Jo Alford, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Alford, Collinsville.

Pamela Alford becomes Mrs. Jeffrey D. Eaves

The First Baptist Church in Madison was the scene of the wedding, on Oct. 28, of Miss Pamela Jo Alford, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Alford, Collinsville, and Jeffrey Dale Eaves, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Eaves, of Madison. Officiating at the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony was the Rev. Paul Davis, before an altar decorated with fall flowers.

Organist Delores Perry accompanied the groom's father, Frank Eaves as he sang, "Time In A Bottle" and Mary Livesey, the groom's aunt as she sang, "The Wedding Song."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white peau de soie gown designed with a fitted bodice, high neckline, full length sleeves and capelet trimmed with wide lace. A lace tiara neapiece secured her veil of bridal illusion also trimmed with lace. She held a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Margaret King served as matron of honor with bridesmaids, Miss Brenda Providence, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Teresa Alford, a sister.

The groom chose his brother, Brian Eaves, as best man. Groomsman and ushers included Ken Thompson, Charles Milam, Michael Eaves, and Clayton Wilson, the bride's uncle.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Alford wore a floor length light green gown with sheer sleeves, and a corsage of white roses trimmed with green ribbon.

The groom's mother appeared in a full length pastel blue dress enhanced with a lace trim. She wore a corsage of red roses.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall, 1825 State St.

The bride is an Edwardsville High School graduate and is employed at Hewitt Metals, St. Louis. Her husband was graduated from Madison High School and also works in St. Louis.

Davis-Huniak nuptials

The wedding of Miss Judith M. Huniak and Wesley D. Davis was solemnized, on Dec. 15, at the First Baptist Church in Madison.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Nick Huniak, 4136 Rode Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Evert Stephens of Belleville.

The Rev. Paul Davis performed the service.

A graduate of Belleville Township High School East, the groom is presently employed as a welder for American Car and Foundry in St. Louis.

The bride was graduated in January from Granite City High School North. They are now residing in Washington Park.

MR. AND MRS. WESLEY D. DAVIS. They exchanged vows at the First Baptist Church in Madison. Formerly Miss Judith M. Huniak, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Huniak, 4136 Rode Ave.

Nameoki Presbyterian

The Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, received new members during the Christmas Day worship service, the Rev. Don F. Pierson, announces.

New members were Mr. and Mrs. William McMurray, Mr. and Mrs. David Brooks, Kenneth Brooks, Dallas Dame and Mrs. Camille Dame.

A "Friends and Family" New Year's Eve fellowship will begin at 8:30 p.m. with a buffet potluck supper. This will be followed by informal fellowship for various age groups including fun and football for teen-agers. There will be a brief New Year's devotional presented by Pastor Pierson just before midnight followed by refreshments.

New Year's Sunday will be marked by the celebration of the Lord's Supper at the 10:45 a.m. morning service, according to the pastor. The New Year's message will be "Adjusting to Eternity."

The ordination and installation of new officers will be held on Sunday, Jan. 8. Joyce Toussaint, Charles Boeworth, Jr., and Marilyn Price will be installed on the Session and Genevieve McComis, James Lamb, and Edna Coase will be ordained as deacons.

The public is cordially invited to share in the fellowship and worship of the congregation, Rev. Pierson added.

Christmas service at Mt. Zion Church

The congregation of Mount Zion General Baptist Church attended a candlelight Christmas service last week at the church.

Approximately 200 were in attendance to hear the Rev. Don Clark deliver the worship message. Christmas carols and hymns were also sung during the service, followed by refreshments.

MRS. GERALD DAVENPORT the former Miss Susan Marlene Kacera who was married at Central Christian Church. She is a daughter of Mrs. Margaret Kacera, 3120 Willow Ave., and the late Paul J. Kacera.

Susan Kacera marries Gerald A. Davenport

Miss Susan Marlene Kacera, a daughter of Mrs. Margaret Kacera, 3120 Willow Ave., and the late Paul J. Kacera, became the bride of Gerald Alan Davenport, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davenport, Springfield, Ill., on Nov. 19, at Central Christian Church.

The Rev. Dennis Rutledge officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Paul D. Kacera, the former Miss Kacera chose a floor length gown of white organza fashioned with an Empire waistline, bishop sleeves and a scoop neckline accented with Chantilly lace with pearls.

The decorative lace trim enhanced the semi-full skirt, which terminated with a double flounce at the hemline. A lace trimmed fingertip veil was secured to a Chantilly Juliet cap and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. Norma Kacera and Mrs. Jeanie Kacera, sisters-in-law of the bride, served as honor attendant and bridesmaid, respectively.

They wore formal length wine color polyester A-line gowns designed with full skirts, Empire bodices and high necklines edged with ivory Venise lace.

Each attendant carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Jeanie Grobski, the flower girl, was dressed in a wine color polyester frock created with a high rise waistline, puff sleeves and a square neckline, accented with ivory lace.

She carried a white wicker basket of pink and white flowers with baby's breath and rose petals.

Ken Jacobs of Springfield, served as best man and Richard Kacera, a brother of the bride, was the groomsman.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the VFW Hall, Granite City.

The newly married couple are residing in Springfield, Ill. A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride also graduated from Springfield Memorial Medical Center School of Nursing and is presently employed at the Medical Center, as a registered nurse.

Her husband is a graduate of Lanphier High School and is working for Davenport Builders of Springfield.

Theta Theta plans New Year's party

Arrangements for a New Year Eve's party to be held in the home of Mrs. Ray Morgan, were finalized at a meeting last week of Theta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Members gathered in the home of Mrs. Linda Givens, 2342 Emert Ave., for the monthly business session.

Mrs. Cindy Hollingshead discussed "Christmas Customs and How They Originated" as the evening program, followed by a gift exchange.

The next meeting on Jan. 5 will be in the home of Mrs. Paul Jackstadt, it was announced.

Others present were Madeline Joyce Tracy, Sharon Taylor, Joyce Sullivan, Barbara Mihalich, Pam Doctor, Mary Morgan, Sandy Cebotulin, Judy Reidelberger, Jane Jackstadt, Ellen Brokaw, Martha Gianakos, Debbie Farmley, Phyllis Talley, and Jane Yates.

Steelers drop thriller to Altamont, 60-59

NO REBOUND THIS TIME. North's Randy Vandergriff (54) can't stop this shot by Tom Millville (51) of Altamont Thursday night in North's heart-stopping 60-59 loss to the Indians. Number 43 for Altamont is Paul Davidson. (Don Iron Photo)

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

For most of the game here Thursday night, it looked as if the GCHS North Steelers were going to earn their second victory of the season... but it wasn't to be.

The Steelers blew an 11-point third quarter lead and lost their fourth game in five starts, 60-59, to Altamont. The game was originally scheduled for Dec. 10, but was postponed because of snow and ice.

"Boy, I would have loved to have been 2-3 going into the Wood River tournament," said North coach Bill Ohlendorf. "If it weren't for about the last two minutes of the third quarter and the first two minutes of the fourth quarter, we would've had 'em."

The Steelers will open the evening session of the Wood River tournament tonight at 6:30 against Southwestern High School of Pisaca.

In that four-minute time span, Altamont's Indians moved from an 11-point deficit with 2:32 showing on the clock in the third quarter to a 54-52 lead with five minutes left in the game.

In between was something that Altamont coach Jeff Hecker called "a gutsy performance."

"We just didn't let up," he said. "When we were 11 points down and everything that Granite City was putting up seemed to be going in, I thought we might be in for it."

"But I'm really proud of these guys. They really turned in a gutsy performance."

That performance was almost overshadowed by the high-scoring outburst by the Steelers' Dennis Page and Rick Willard. Willard pumped in 13 points and Page banged home 10 points.

"That Page is a real fine ball player," said Hecker. "We were trying to force him to go to his right, since he isn't as effective from that side."

"We were able to control him somewhat, but he still did a lot of damage."

THAT DAMAGE looked as if it might turn into a North romp early in the third quarter.

After taking a six-point lead at halftime, 31-25, North jumped out to a 33-26 lead on a 15-foot jumper by Willard.

The Steelers then turned loose a zone press on the Indians in an effort to get the ball away from them while they were bringing it up the floor. It worked.

But after the Altamont turnover, the Steelers turned the ball right back over to the Indians.

When Page hit a 15-foot bank shot from the left side with 5:33 remaining in the period, the Steelers had built up an 11-point lead, 38-27.

BUT ALTAMONT kept right on coming. With substitute guard Jeff Brauer driving the lane and scoring at will on the next two Altamont possessions, the Indians, with the help of two free throws by Kevin Schroeder on their third possession, had narrowed the North lead to 38-33.

Brad Gauen and Willard took control. They each scored a basket the next two times North had the ball, and the lead was back up to 41-44. That's when the roof began to crumble a bit in the Steelers.

IT CRUMBLED a bit, but didn't cave in... yet.

Devils fall to New Athens, 77-73

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

The Venice Red Devils must have looked at the tournament souvenir program in the second quarter last night in their game against New Athens in the first round of the Columbia Holiday tournament.

That program listed past winners of the tourney and the team listed most often was Venice. In fact, 10 of the 12 winners of the tournament were Red Devil squads. They wanted to make it 11.

THE DEVILS overcame an 18-point deficit to eventually take the lead in the third quarter but later bowed to the second-seeded Yellow Jackets, 77-73.

Venice coach Ken Perkins wasn't exactly elated. "Sure, I like to overcome an 18-point lead as much as anybody," said Perkins. "But if you hadn't gotten yourself 18 points behind in the first place, you wouldn't have to."

Trailing 30-12 at the end of the first quarter, Venice outscored New Athens 25-16 in the second period to go into the locker room trailing by nine at halftime, 46-37.

"We're really fired up," Perkins said at the intermission. "These guys know they're in a game now."

In a game was right. The Devils scored three unanswered baskets at the start of the third quarter to pull within three points, 46-43, with 5:37 left in the period.

ANTHONY WISE did all of the damage himself. He hit a 20-foot jumper at the 7:02 mark to make it 46-39. Then he scored a 10-foot jump shot for point number 41. He next scored on a five-foot turnaround jumper after Ricky Salmond had stolen a Yellow Jacket pass.

After a driving layup by New Athens' Rich Koenigstein, Donald Gardner hit a five-footer to pull Venice back within three.

A shot by Frank Pace from the top of the key with five minutes left pulled the Devils within one, 48-47.

A driving layup by Pace just 15 seconds later gave the Red Devils their first lead of the night, 49-48.

Dale Jansen came right back to give New Athens the lead, but Gardner drove the lane for two points with 4:16 showing for a 51-50 Red Devil lead.

THE LEAD for Venice became three points when Gardner hit a five-foot jumper with 3:50 left.

But the Yellow Jackets weren't dead. They came right back and scored four straight points for a 54-53 lead with just over two minutes left in the period.

Their lead was three when Mike Wirth made two free throws with a minute remaining. But Terry Arnold and Salmond combined for four straight Red Devil points for a 57-56 lead at the end of the quarter.

Things continued in just the same manner throughout most of the fourth quarter. That is, until 2:31 remained in the game. At that point, Wirth hit a 25-foot jumper to break a 67-67 tie. It was a lead New Athens would never give up.

THE YELLOW JACKETS outscored Venice 8-4 over the remainder of the quarter to win going away.

"That Wirth's the finest shooter I've seen in a long while," said Perkins. "He's a pure shooter."

"I thought our press had them bothered," said Perkins. "After we once decided to go out there and play ball, we made a real contest out of it."

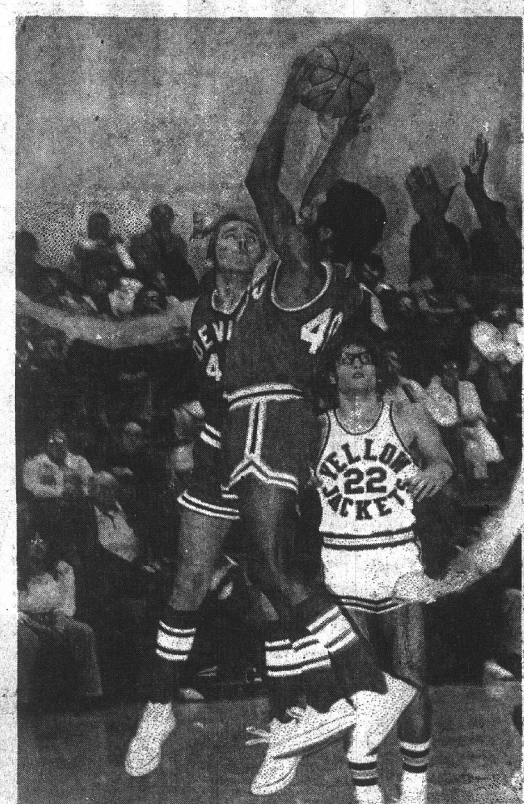

"But we've come to a point where I can say, 'So-and-so had a really great game,' or so-and-so did a good job. Or just so much."

"WE KNOW we can do it. It's just a matter of getting out there and doing it."

The Red Devils are scheduled to play Red Bud, 91-80 losers to Anna-Jonesboro yesterday, at 2:30 this afternoon in the final game of the consolation bracket.

South beats Parkway West; ups dual record to 7-0

Improving its unblemished record to 7-0, Coach Bill Schmitt's Granite City High School South wrestling team toppled Parkway North 35-16 on the Missourians' mat Thursday night.

Schmitt's Warriors thus assured themselves a perfect dual meet record entering their holiday invitational tournament Wednesday and Thursday.

But they are aware that many of their tougher opponents are on the January schedule.

"Darrell Hasty moved up from 145 pounds Thursday night to oppose Parkway North's state qualifier, Mitch Berger, and was able to gain a 5-2 victory," the Warrior coach said.

At 98 pounds, Greg Garland (South) won by forfeit, 105-Rocky Lupardus (S) pinned Tracy Vickery (1:06), 112-Clement (S) defeated Rick Weiss 8-4, 118-Wally DeShon (S) pinned Kurt Krispin (4:12).

128-Barry Forshee (S) defeated Jeff Pax 11-4, 132-Dean Perkins (S) lost to Bob Walker 2-1, 138-Sam Perkins (S) defeated James Martin 15-0, 145-Dwain F. Pe (S) defeated Phil Herrick 9-5.

After Hasty's win at 155 pounds, at 167-Mike Forshee (S) was pinned by Will Kosa (3:32), 165-Mark Lamp (S) lost to Mike Mercer 7-3 and Heavyweight Don King (S) lost to Bryan Weaver 10-3.

The South sophomores and junior varsity were also entered in the Thursday meet at Parkway North. The sophomores emerged with a 53-9 win and the junior varsity Warriors came out on top by an identical score.

"We're really performing well," said South assistant coach John Brooks. "For some reason, however, Parkway

The tournament will be conducted on a double-elimination basis, with champions being determined in the winners and consolation brackets.

In the first game on Monday, Jan. 2, the Granite City South Warriors will take on the Belleville West "A" team at 4 p.m. At 5:30, Edwardsville will face the West "B" team.

In the third game at 7:30 p.m., Cahokia will play Mascoutah and at 8:30, Alhouth will face Belleville East.

Play will be conducted on through Tuesday and Wednesday, with Monday's losers playing each other, and Monday's victors colliding.

On Tuesday, Jan. 3, game 1 and Game 2 losers will meet at 4 p.m., the losers of Games 3 and 4 will meet at 5:30 p.m., the winner of Game 1 will face the winner of Game 2 at 7 p.m., and at 8:30 p.m. the winner of Game 3 will play the winner of Game 4.

Third place and championship games in each bracket are set for Jan. 4.

Registration for winter quarter

Registration for the winter quarter at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be held Tuesday, Jan. 3, from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center. Late registration will be held Jan. 5 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. in the lobby of the John S. Rendleman Building and on Jan. 6 from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the same location.

Registration will be operated on a first-come, first-served basis, according to C. B. Collier, assistant registrar. Winter quarter classes will begin Jan. 3 at 4:30 p.m.

Any student who has not attended classes at the university within the past year must check with the Office of Admissions and Records before registering for classes.

Students who plan to attend the university for the first time are to apply for admission immediately. Applications for admission are available in the Office of Admissions and Records.

Records located in the Rendleman Building.

To be considered for admission to the university, a person should be a graduate of an accredited high school or must have passed the General Education Development test (GED). A graduate of a non-accredited high school may be admitted by the director of admissions and records through examination.

Individuals who would like to take a course for their own enjoyment may do so by applying for admission as a non-degree student.

If a student in this category decides to work toward a degree at a later date, it will be necessary to follow regular admission procedures, it was explained.

BREAK INTO GARAGE

Only a few tools were believed taken during a burglary at the garage of Oscar Knau, 2319 Lincoln Ave., which was discovered Thursday. A window was broken and a small table was pulled throughout the window and used to climb in. Cabinets, drawers and the car in the garage were searched. Known missing was a new electric sander, four wrenches, vice-grips and a gallon of anti-freeze.

Lifetime Learning Institute puts many here back into classrooms

Many members of the older generation no longer dream of the good old days when they were in school. They are back in the classroom and enjoying every minute of it, according to Clyde Fisher, coordinator of the Institute of Lifetime Learning and assistant director of SIUE Off-Campus Programs.

One lady of advanced years is learning for the first time how to sew. By making her own clothes, she is able to make her Social Security check go farther than before.

Other widows are learning how to revive lamps, replace washers in faucets and do other home repair jobs that normally might be done by their husbands if they were still living. Now that they are alone, the women are struggling to maintain a home for themselves.

Both men and women are involved in classes that vary from physical fitness to beginning bridge.

All the classes are made possible through the Institute of Lifetime Learning.

A cooperative effort of the American Association of Retired Persons and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Belleville Area College and Lewis and Clark Community College - the institute has completed its first term of classes.

According to Fisher, the learning adventure has been a success. Established at the close of the summer, the local chapter of the institute opened the fall session with 13 class offerings.

Classes were held on the three sponsoring campuses and at senior citizen centers in this region, including Alton, Edwardsville, Belleville, Collinsville, Granite City and Madison.

Lewis and Clark Community College offered six classes, including a class in basic clothing construction and a course in disco dance at the McArthur Center in Alton; an insurance course at the Hartford meal site; a course in simple home repair at the Senior Citizens Center in Edwardsville; a course in planning wills, estates and trusts, at the Senior Citizens Center in Alton; and a class in oil painting at the First Baptist Church in Alton.

Belleville Area College offered beginning bridge, creative writing, beginning Spanish and a walking group at the Uplown Center in Belleville. The community college also provided a course in metrics at two locations, including the YMCA in Granite City and the Broomer Home in Collinsville. SIUE offered a course titled "Dialogue for Senior Citizens" at its campus. The 13 classes attracted more than 200 senior citizens.

The learning institute is now seeking requests from local senior citizen groups and senior citizen centers for courses they would like to see offered during the spring term, Fisher said.

The next term of classes will begin during the week of March 6.

Additional information on the program may be obtained by contacting Fisher at 692-3210.

Accident suit

Marian Wright has filed a $15,000 lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville against Lee & Andy's Auto Repair of Madison, and Lee Abernathy.

The suit alleges that on Oct. 12, Marian Wright was driving north on Madison Avenue, stopped for traffic and was struck from the rear by a Lee & Andy's tow truck, driven by Abernathy.

Bakalis raises 7%

Illinois Comptroller Michael J. Bakalis announced Thursday a seven percent across-the-board pay hike for virtually all employees in the comptroller's office.

Addressing an all-employee meeting in Springfield, he said, "Let me stress that this is not a one-time-only bonus. A clerical worker in this office making $7,800 a year will get a salary increase of $556 over the next year, one of the highest increases in state government."

Bakalis told the employees the raises were due mainly to their increased productivity. "We began," said the comptroller, "there were 417 employees in this office. Today there are 382 performing the same work that the 417 used to do."

Normal attrition was the reason for the decline in employment he said, adding "No one was fired just to reduce the numbers."

Those earning less than $20,000 a year will get the full seven percent pay hike. The 29 earning more than $20,000 will be evaluated and salary adjustments will be based on their performance.

He said the raises are possible at this time because budgetary projections are more easily made now that the first half of the fiscal year is over.

Subsidence insurance pool urged

The Regional Commerce and Growth Association is backing Illinois legislation that would provide for reinsurance against damage to residences caused by subsidence of mines.

Representatives Celeste Stasiak (R-Belleville) and Monroe Fline (D-Cabot) are sponsoring bills that would establish an Illinois Mine Subsidence Insurance Pool, financed by up to $2 million a year from state sales taxes on minerals as well as premiums paid on subsidence insurance policies.

"Economic development of the Illinois portion of the region could be adversely affected by damage and threat of damage" from the collapse of underground excavations, primarily in mined-out coal fields, a spokesman said.

Communities affected include Belleville, Fairview Heights, Caseyville, Maryville, Glen Carbon and Edwardsville. Recently, 33 of 110 homes in Maryville subdivisions were damaged by shifts in the ground level.

Some homeowners have been unaware that their homes were built over mines, and that there is no mine subsidence insurance now available for residences.

Under the proposed bills, subsidence is to be covered in every policy issued or renewed in a county affected by undermining. Deductibles would be from $20 to $500, and the total value of mine subsidence coverage could not exceed $50,000.

TV 9 campaign nets $110,000

The most successful fund-raising effort of KETC, television Channel 9, ended in December with the station raising $110,887 from 3,182 pledges. The most successful previous effort, held in March, raised $102,422 in pledges. The average amount of each pledge increased to an all-time high of $54.82.

During the 16-day fund-raising event, many special programs were aired. Viewer pledge response was highest following "Miracle on 34th Street," which brought in $25,900 in pledges for two showings.

The National Geographic special "Yukon Passage" netted $7,950 in pledges and "The Merry Widow," $5,100. The highest one-day total during the drive was $19,578 pledged on Dec. 7.

Appellate service to aid state's attorneys

Special swearing-in ceremonies were held last week in Mt. Vernon, Elgin, Ottawa and Springfield for the staff of the State's Attorneys Appellate Service Commission.

Justice Charles James of the Fifth District Appellate Court administered the oath of office to the staff of the Fifth District office, located in Mt. Vernon.

Bruce D. Irish, of Mt. Vernon, formerly court administrator for the Fifth District Appellate Court and former principal attorney for the Fifth District office of the Illinois State's Attorneys Association Appellate Service, was sworn in as deputy director of the Mt. Vernon office.

Also sworn were staff attorneys Raymond F. Buckley Jr., Keith P. Vanden Dooren, John A. Clark, Martin N. Ashley and Ann E. Singleton.

Named as director of the agency is Charles D. Shaefel Jr., of Wheaton, former DuPage County assistant state's attorney and former director of the Illinois State's Attorneys Association Appellate Service, which served as the model for the present state agency named as State's attorneys named as

Seith seeking debate series

Alex Seith, a Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, is challenging Sen. Charles Percy to a series of seven debates, to be aired over statewide radio and television.

"In one-on-one debates," Seith said, "the senator and I would question each other instead of answering questions by a panel."

He said the Lincoln-Douglas debates of 1858 were "seven in number, one-on-one, and reached millions of voters, through the then new method of full phonographic verbatim reports."

"An updated version of what was good for Lincoln and Douglas would be good for Seith and Percy."

He said that debates, with the candidates questioning each other, would be "much more exciting and informative" than the panel-style questioning of Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford in the 1976 presidential debates.

"Those debates were often little more than joint press conferences, with the candidates answering the panelists but not answering each other," Seith said. Sen. Percy earlier agreed to debate him "after the primary" because of the importance of "discussing issues." But the would-be Democratic challenger said the senator's agreement "was not specific enough."

"Debates cannot effectively air issues unless a wide audience of voters can see and hear the candidates. And not everything called a debate deserves the name."

"In the 11 months until the election, I will welcome and answer thousands of questions by voters and reporters. But there should also be a forum where we, as candidates, directly question each other."

"Voters can judge us by the questions we ask and the answers we give."

$200,000 suit

Richard Moore has filed a two-count suit against Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., and M. H. Wolfe Co., seeking $200,000 in each count for injuries he alleges to have suffered in a Dec. 1, 1976, accident.

Moore said he was employed as a sheetmetal worker and was working on an addition to the Air Products plant in Granite City when he fell from the roof and was injured.

He was employed by Granite Sheet Metal under contract with the Wolfe firm when the accident occurred, the suit contends. One count seeks $200,000 from Air Products and the other count seeks the same from the Wolfe firm.

commissioners for the 37-county Fifth Appellate District are Clyde Kuehn (St. Clair County) and Robert J. Hawkins (Wayne County). The commissioners will oversee the operation of the agency.

Participants in the program include Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron. The agency was created during the recently completed special fall session of the legislature, called by Governor James R. Thompson to consider implementation of a number of criminal justice measures.

The bill was sponsored by State Representative William L. Kempners (R-Joliet) and Senator George Sangmeister (D-Mokena) and was signed into law on Dec. 3.

The legislation provides for establishment of four appellate offices to be located at the site of the intermediate appellate courts outside of Cook County. The offices will assist state's attorneys to sustain lower court convictions, by providing a staff to prepare briefs and prosecute criminal appeals in the reviewing courts.

The new prosecutor service will match a similar service that aids indigent defendants in preparing their cases.

The present legislation was modeled after a program created in 1974 by the Illinois State's Attorneys Association. That plan was funded through grants received from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission and through contributions received from participating counties.

The new agency will insure the continuation of appellate assistance to state's attorneys.

SIU saves $10 million by selling new bond issue

Sale of $34.7 million worth of revenue bonds by Southern Illinois University will save the university more than $10 million over the 30-year life of the bonds, an SIU financial officer says.

SIU sold $34,700,000 in term and serial bonds to a financial syndicate headed by Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. in a negotiated sale concluded in late December in Chicago.

Money from this bond issue will allow SIU to "advance refund" about $27 million in publicly-held bonds outstanding from earlier bond issues totaling $84 million. The earlier bond issues were made during the 1950s and 1960s to finance a series of construction projects at the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses.

An additional $17.6 million of the earlier bonds currently held by various government agencies won't be affected by the new bond issue.

R. Dean Isbell, treasurer for SIU's Board of Trustees, says the money raised by the new bonds will provide funds to pay off all the publicly-held bonds at the time they mature. And it will allow the university to reduce the amount of money kept on hand in a debt service reserve fund maintained in connection with the bond issue.

The debt service reserve fund is the maximum amount of principal and interest due on the bonds during any one year. Isbell says the fund is kept on hand to give investors "some protection" in case a financial catastrophe strikes the university.

He said the 30-year savings will amount to $8,300,000 in principal and $5,000,000 in interest costs, plus a $3,000,000 residue in the debt service reserve fund at the time the last bond matures.

The university's recent upgrading by the two major financial rating services made the bonds "very attractive" to the financial community, Isbell says.

"The financial community recognized that these bonds are more secure," he said. "People are willing to pay more to buy them." A higher rating by the two rating services means the university won't have to pay as much in interest on the bonds as it would on a lower-rated issue.

Standard and Poor recently raised SIU's bond rating from "Baa" to "A-plus," while Moody's boosted the university's rating from A to A1. Isbell said the higher rating usually means a break of between .12 and .15 per cent on the amount of interest demanded on the bonds.

The current bond issue also will cover estimated financing costs for a $5.5 million bond issue planned by the university within the next several months. Isbell said the money from the planned bond issue will be used to complete air-conditioning installations at on-campus residence halls at SIUC and will pay for a remodeling project at the SIUE University Center.

Although Isbell is pleased with the $10 million he says the university will save over the next 30 years by advance refunding of its previously outstanding bonds, he's also enthusiastic about how it's being done.

"As far as I know, this is the first time it's been used in higher education," he said. "I think we'll see a lot more of it in the future."

As he describes it, advance refunding will save money for SIU by raising enough money that a trust fund can be set up to pay off all previously-issued bonds when they mature.

In addition, sale of the new bonds releases about $11 million being held as a reserve on the old bonds. These funds will be used to establish an endowment fund to purchase government bonds paying seven and five-eighths per cent until they mature. This maturity coincides with payment of the last of the new bonds.

Actual interest costs on the old bonds in escrow range from two and three-quarters per cent to six per cent, and the difference in interest cost and expected earnings from the government securities is $5,059,593 benefit to the university, Isbell said.

The new bond issue also will help ease SIU's annual cash flow requirements by reducing the amount of money it is required to pay each year to retire the bond issue.

He put the annual saving at more than $80,000, and said this could save of anticipated increases in fees students pay for such items as operating student centers and housing charges in on-campus residence halls.

Environmental lab seminars

The SIUE Environmental Resources Training Center and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency will present two seminars dealing with environmental laboratory procedures Jan. 13 and 14.

A seminar detailing use of biochemical oxygen demand for evaluating treatment plant efficiencies is scheduled Jan. 13. A step-by-step demonstration will include how to collect samples and how to prepare dilution water and reagents.

Laboratory procedures on total suspended solids will be the topic Jan. 14. The seminar will detail use of various suspended solids testing procedures for plant process control and national pollutant discharge elimination system monitoring. A demonstration will show approved methods for monitoring total suspended solids and how to report the results.

Both seminars will be held in the ERTC. Registration is $20, payable Jan. 13.

Trainees who successfully complete the seminars will be awarded 0.6 continuing education credits per seminar by the ERTC and SIUE, and will receive 1.0 IEPA education credit points.

Let contract for new jail equipment

A contract to provide security equipment needed in construction of the new City of Granite City police station and jail complex was awarded by the City Council last week to the Stewart Decatur Security Systems, Inc., of St. Louis on a low bid price of $62,900.

Two bidders presented offers on that phase of the construction program. The other was by the Fries Correctional Equipment Co. of Bromley, Ky. in the amount of $63,900.

Environmental education project deadline Jan. 20

The deadline set by the U.S. Office of Education for application to the 1978 environmental education program is Jan. 20, according to the SIUE Office of Research and Projects.

Approximately 100 projects will be funded during the 1977-78 fiscal year, including new and competing continuation projects. Grants averaging $50,000 for general projects and not exceeding $10,000 for mini-grants will be awarded for a 12-month period. General projects are designed to assist the development of effective environmental education practices and materials for use by formal and/or nonformal education. Priority areas are resource material development projects, personnel development projects, community education projects, and elementary and secondary education projects. Mini-grant projects are intended to assist communities in acquiring an understanding of the causes, effects, and solutions surrounding a local environmental problem. Mini-grant projects may include workshops for community residents on the effects of a proposed industrial or pollution ban, symposia on impacts of community population distribution and change, seminars on the environmental implications of alternative urban renewal or land use plans, or conferences on community energy needs, current use patterns and alternatives. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Office of Research and Projects at 692-3162.

Slower speed essential on icy roads—Veizer

"With winter in full swing, area motorists should review the basics of winter weather driving," Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer said today.

"Every year at this time, the International Association of Chiefs of Police reminds drivers of ways to take extra precautions against winter's deadly tricks." And a basic problem, according to IACP and Chief Veizer, is the combination of too much speed for too little traction.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD that make a strong argument for special precautions on winter-slick roads. Important speed-to-traction relations, according to Veizer, include: Glare ice is treacherous. How dangerous? Take this example: Under normal conditions you can stop on dry pavement from a speed of 20 mph in 17 feet with regular highway tires on your car. At that same speed, using those same tires, you can skid as far as 200 or more feet before coming to a stop under glare ice conditions. That's on the order of 10 to 12 times your normal stopping distance.

Dr. Veizer says icy roads require drastic speed reductions. Here's how much: Considering that you can stop on dry pavement in about 150 feet from a speed of 55 miles an hour, you must slow down to 20 miles an hour or even less to skid to a stop on glare ice in the same distance!

Six tips to help overcome these speed-to-traction problems have been developed based on the findings of the NSC skid tests, Veizer said.

1. Get the "feet" of the road by accelerating carefully to see if wheels spin; or brake gently to see if they skid. Reduce speed accordingly.

2. Increase your following distance. It takes at least three to four times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement.

3. "Pump" your brakes to slow or stop—don't jam them on. An intermittent pumping action keeps the wheels rolling and helps maintain steering control.

4. Have good tires with good tread. Better yet, use snow tires which provide half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires. Studied snow tires (where permitted) offer still more help on icy surfaces.

5. Always carry reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car for use during severe snow and ice conditions. They provide four to seven times as much traction on snow or ice as regular tires.

6. Keep your windshield and windows clear at all times. Replace streaking wiper blades gone dead from exposure to sun, wind and oily road film. Be sure your windshield washer solution contains adequate antifreeze.

If we all follow these common sense rules, stay patient and drive carefully, Chief Veizer concluded, "Spring will get here and we'll be around to see it!"

Republican party strong in Illinois, but over half of its Madison County precincts lack committeeman candidates

Filing of petitions by candidates for elective offices in Madison County underscores the plight of the Republican party here and nationally. An exception is the statewide outlook, in which Illinois Republicans are considered likely to capture most state offices and possibly will regain control of the legislature.

Of the 272 precincts in this county for the March 1978 balloting, more than half — 113 — attracted no Republican committeemen aspirants. Of the remaining 159, there are unopposed candidates in 107 and two-way races in only two precincts.

Democrats, in contrast, have 153 unopposed for party precinct positions, 49 two-way rivalries and three instances in which three individuals are running for committeeman, with no candidates at all in 17 neighborhoods.

The pattern is even more apparent in the Quad-City area, where there are single GOP candidates in eight precincts and no one running for the other 59 Republican posts. Of the eight single GOP committeemen positions, seven reside in 37-precinct Granite City and one in 12-precinct Nameoki. Lacking GOP party aspirants altogether are Venice Township's 11 precincts and Chouteau's seven.

All 67 local Democrat committee posts will be filled in the early spring election; 35 have lone candidates, 30 attracted dual races and two have three-way competition.

Filing for the Madison County Board also ended last week, and a similar situation exists.

Of the 15 the 29 board posts to be decided, there are 33 Democratic contenders — six unopposed for primary nominations, four two-way races three-person contests, a four-way rivalry and a six-way race.

Of the 14 Republican County Board hopefuls, seven are unopposed in the primary and there are two-way battles and a three-way race. NO GOP candidates filed in five districts.

Most candidates for countywide offices are Democrats, and the only certain Republican winner in November 1978 is the top vote-getter among the GOP state representative nominees.

The unique Illinois cumulative voting law, with provisions for minority party representation in every legislative district is often criticized. But it is vital in a Democratic area like this, or in certain Republican strongholds in Illinois, if there are to be statewide two-party General Assembly participation.

All we want for holidays — limit on government growth

Press-Record Washington Bureau — Despite the talk for reduced taxes, the fact is that government itself is continuing to pile enormous burdens on the private sector.

To see this point clearly, it is necessary to look the seemingly endless ways in which government is adding to the cost of doing business and the cost of living.

Consider the national debt. As it increases, it reached a record $700 billion on Nov. 17 and will reach $800 billion within the next year — so does the interest on the debt.

The interest adds to the total government spending, which in turn adds to the cost of doing business, regardless of how the debt is financed.

In addition, higher Social Security taxes, higher minimum wages, and the higher unemployment insurance taxes are going to raise the cost of doing business also.

In the long run, they will reduce employee salaries and wages, and raise the general price level.

Government-induced paperwork also is nicking the businessman for $14 billion annually. And compliance with federal regulations likewise is nicking him for another $62 billion.

That total breaks down, in part, to $5 billion for compliance with consumer-health and safety regulations, $4 billion for job-safety and working conditions regulations, $7.8 billion for environmental regulations, and $1.1 billion for financial regulations. All these expenses trickle down to increase the general price level to consumers.

No cataloging of the ways government is burdening the private sector would be complete, of course, without mention of the energy package.

No matter its final form, it will do in general what President Carter wants done: it will raise enormous revenues through new and expanded taxes, and the revenues then will be plowed back into the economy through rebates, tax incentives and transfer payments.

The President's view is that the stimulative effects of the taxes will be offset by the stimulative effects of the rebates, incentives and transfers. However, Arthur Laffer, an economist, says there can be no such trade-off and the package will result in declines both in output and employment.

By itself, the energy package is the largest burden the government is placing upon the private sector.

Herbert Stein has written that the great increase in government spending during the past 20 years might have been less had the public been more explicitly faced with a choice between lower taxes and higher spending.

It is fair to say that had the public been faced with a more explicit choice between lower burdens and the good that government ostensibly would do, the public would have opted for fewer burdens.

How can case these burdens? One way is to reduce taxes significantly and permanently.

Another is to index the tax system against inflation — a step that would prevent the government from increasing spending without raising tax rates.

Mr. Stein has suggested the creation of an Office of Taxpayer Advocacy within the executive branch, which would make a case for tax reduction.

This is fine, but perhaps the office could be more generically defined, say as an Office of Advocacy for the Private Sector. Not only would it make the case for tax reduction, it also would make a case for fewer burdens on business and individuals alike.

In any case, it is only by an easing of these burdens that the private sector will become free to grow, and it is only by the growth of the private sector that the American economy can retain its strength.

11 charges after chase

A report of a man who had a gun in his car led to a police chase from Ponton Beach into Granite City which involved officers from four police departments Thursday night.

At 7:55 p.m. Thursday, a woman told police a man had a .45 caliber pistol in his car and was acting strangely. The Illinois State Police Emergency Radio Network was used to notify all area police of the car's description.

At 8:15 p.m., Ponton Beach police reported they were chasing a car that fit description on Route 162, Illinois State Police and Madison County Sheriff's deputies joined in the chase.

The Ponton Beach car chased the auto north on Mockingbird Lane and west on Strafford Lane to the roadblock. Granite City police reported the car went through the roadblock narrowly missing a Granite City squad car.

CHURCH BURGLARY

Burglars broke into the Bethel Chapel, 25th Street and Ohio Ave., but apparently were frightened away before they could carry away what they had stolen from the church.

The burglary was discovered when patrolling officers saw a broken window. Musical instruments, a television set, a stereo, a microwave oven and other items were piled under the window.

Police said they were called to Nameoki Road and Clark Avenue where witnesses gave them the license numbers of the two trucks. Police said the two trucks were driving north on the south lanes of Nameoki Road, ramming each other.

FB joins probe

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has joined an investigation into a possible stolen car ring which was begun after a routine license plate check earlier this month by a Ponton Beach officer.

Investigator Chester Bailey first noticed a late-model Ford in a driveway in Kaseberg Park Dec. 14 and ran a license check, finding the plates were issued to a Pontiac.

Since the car was in a private driveway, no laws were being violated, but officers watched the vehicle for a week, in case it was driven on the streets.

At women was seen driving the auto in Kaseberg Park last week and was stopped for questioning about the license plates. She said her husband had been unable to transfer the plates from their former car because they had not yet received the proper papers.

The woman said the auto had been purchased from a Missouri man, so Missouri officials were notified, and asked in the investigation. The FBI was called into the case and the investigation was continuing.

The woman driving the auto was charged with not having valid registration for her auto and was released.

Heil to leave review board
Gilbert Heil plans to resign effective Jan. 31 from the Madison County Board of Review to become Knox County assessment supervisor at Galesburg. He was chosen 1967 for the $17,000-a-year post Dec.

"We've made progress in reviewing tax assessments during my four years on the board, but we've got a long way to go," the Godfrey Republican commented. That there is state dissatisfaction is indicated by the necessity for property valuation multipliers in 20 of the 24 Madison County townships, he noted.

WOMAN INJURED
Sharon Ingram, 999 Franklin Ave., West Madison, suffered a cut on the right ear at 5:30 p.m. Friday when she was struck by a gun butt. She said she was struck by a man as she walked to the porch of her home. Police are investigating.

MARSHALL BURGLARY
Two television sets and a revolver worth $250 were stolen during a burglary at the home of Robert Niesporek, 2721 Marshall Ave., which was discovered Thursday. A rear window was broken and opened to gain entry.

FURNACE OVERHEATS
An overheated furnace blower motor filled the home of John Sager, 300 Sunbury Ave., with smoke at 5:25 a.m. today, but there was no fire. Granite City firemen acted in ejecting the smoke and estimated damage at $75. They were there 20 minutes.

CAR TRUNK LOOTED
Thieves punched the lock in the trunk of a 1965 Buick Wildcat Griggs, 1014 College Ave., parked in front of her home, and stole a tire, Christmas ornaments, wiring equipment and a mag wheel. It was reported at 1:55 p.m. Friday.

TRUCK WHEEL STOLEN
Jack Twimer, 2000 Sixth St., Madison, reported at 12:35 p.m. Sunday that a tire and wheel were stolen from his flatbed truck while it was parked at the Wagon Wheel Truck Stop. He said the tire was chained to the truck.

VAN BURGLARIZED
Burbie Cline, Grand Island, Neb., reported to police at 11:05 a.m. Saturday that a citizens band radio, a watch and a cash register were stolen from a 1977 Ford van while it was parked in the driveway at 2641 Madison Ave.

Group going to theater festival

Fourteen Granite City High School South students and their drama instructor, Ron Pennell, will travel to Normal Jan. 5 to participate in the third annual Illinois High School Theater Festival.

A full schedule of theater is on the agenda for the 1,500 high school students who will be on the Illinois State University campus that Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Featured in the festival are five full-length plays and eight studio productions presented by high schools from around the state. Among the productions are Taming of the Shrew, Night Watch, How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, Story Theater, Rimers of Eldritch, The Apple Tree, Alice in Wonderland and Winners-Losers.

Professional and university theater personnel will be conducting 150 workshop sessions in all aspects of theater, ranging from makeup and lighting to dance and mime.

The Stephenwolf Theater Company, a professional group from Highland Park, will present "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead" for the Thursday night, Jan. 5, opening production. David Birney, New York actor of "Scruples" and "Bridget Loves Bernie," will present scenes from the classics for the Saturday night, Jan. 7, final event.

Many colleges and theatrical firms will have personnel and displays at the festival to provide information. The festival is sponsored by the Illinois Theater Association, the Illinois Office of Education and ISU.

'Cabaret' auditions

Auditions for the musical "Cabaret" will be held Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 4 p.m. in the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Communications Building Theater. The show will be presented at SIUE Feb. 22-26.

"Cabaret" is set in the decadence and terror of Berlin during the late 1930s, according to a spokesman for the Department of Theater and Dance (602-2773). It is the story of a young American novelist and an eccentric English girl who nearly fail to recognize the approaching Nazi horror.

It won the 1967 New York Drama Critics' Circle Award and the Tony Award for Best Musical.

Persons wishing to audition are to have a two-minute monologue and one song, and are to be prepared for a dance combination. An accompanist will be provided.

In Memoriam 33
In Memory of
Our Daughter,
Sister and Mother
JANICE KAYE HAHNE
I cannot say, and I will not say
That you are dead, you are just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
You have wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be, since you linger there.
And you—Oh you, who the wildest yearn
For the old time step & the glad return.
Think of you faring on as dear,
In the love of there as the love of here.
Think of you still as the same, I say.
You are not dead, you are just away.
Sadly missed by Family and all who knew her

In Loving Memory of
BRUCE GIUKA
who passed away
December 26, 1977
One year has passed, since that sad day, when the one we dearly loved, was suddenly called away.
Our hearts are filled with sadness, but yet we are glad,
because he is with you in everlasting peace.
God gave us faith and strength to bear the blow.
How hard it was to part with him, no one will ever know.
To your grave we wonder,
remember your smiling face and we feel your love.
Your hand rests on our shoulders and we feel courage to go on, because we know you are standing by us silently.
Till in heaven, when we're once more together.
For Eternity, never to part again.
Sadly missed by
Wife, Son, Mother,
Father, Brothers and all those who loved him

In Loving Memory of
LEO DAVIS ZELIN JR.
December 26, 1976
The sun and the moon are shining.
Upon a silent grave,
Beneath lies one we loved deeply.
But whom we could not save,
Friends may think we have forgotten.
When at times they see us
smile,
Little do they know the heart-aches.
That our smile hides all the while,
Peaceful be thy rest, dear Son and Brother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name,
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
Sadly missed by
Family and
all who loved him

In Loving Memory of ROSALIE ELMORE
who passed away
December 27, 1983
In our home she is fondly remembered,
Sweet memories cling to her name.
Those who loved her in life
sincerely,
Still love her in death just the same.

Voter registration centers scheduled

A series of special voter registration centers to aid newly-qualified voters of the Quad-City area in registering to vote in the March 21 primary election have been scheduled by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles. The registration periods will include four in Granite City, three in Venice, and one each in Madison, Mitchell and Ponton Beach.
Persons qualified to vote, Miss Bowles said, are those 18 years of age on or before March 21, 1978, who have lived 30 days in the state and 30 days in the voting precinct.
Miss Bowles said voters who already are registered should check their voters certificate of identification (pink card) to be certain they are registered at their present address. If not, a change of address may be noted on the reverse side of the card and the card mailed to the county clerk's office at Edwardsville on or before Feb. 21.
Anyone who has lost the pink identification card may obtain a duplicate by applying to the county clerk's office.

Deputies of the county clerk's office will conduct the special voter registration centers, which will include the following:
Granite City—American National Bank, 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., Dec. 30; Kroger Store, Nameoki Village, noon to 7 p.m., Dec. 30; Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, 4 to 7 p.m., Jan. 6; A&P Store, 20th and Madison, noon to 5 p.m., Jan. 7.
Venice—Tri-City Grocery, 400 Broadway, noon to 7 p.m., Dec. 30; Venice City Hall, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Jan. 6; Eagle Park Improvement Association hall, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Jan. 6; Eagle Park Improvement Association hall, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Jan. 7.
Madison—Schermer's Market, 12th and Madison, noon to 6 p.m., Jan. 7.
Mitchell—E & I Quick Stop, 5527 Maryville Road, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Dec. 30.
Ponton Beach—Village Hall, 267 Lake Drive, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Jan. 6.
TREATED AT HOSPITAL
Lynn Crader, 23, of East St. Louis, sustained pain in the back and shoulders after she was injured in an auto accident last week. She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by ambulance, had x-rays taken and was released.

BLIND AND HANDICAPPED YULE PARTY. Radio Information Service listeners gathered at their Way of Lights Christmas party last week. Jo Kathmann (center), director, and Fr. Boni Wittenbrink (right), development director, accepted canned goods from the 200 who attended. The idea of collecting and distributing the food to those less fortunate was initiated by the RIS listeners.

Blind, handicapped aid 'the unfortunate'

The National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows Radio Information Service, which provides closed-circuit broadcasting to area blind and handicapped, celebrated the season at its annual Way of Lights party. Over 200 RIS listeners and their families joined in the festivities last week.

Activities of the evening were organized by the RIS staff, under the direction of Jo Kathmann, and with suggestions from the listeners.

When the plans were being discussed, it was decided by the blind and handicapped listeners that this would be an opportune time to help those who are less fortunate by bringing canned goods to be distributed to the needy.

Since there are many blind and handicapped who would not ordinarily be able to enjoy the Way of Lights, the highlight of the evening has become a bus tour of the display. As the group traveled through the mile and a half of lights, Miss Kathmann and Fr. Boni Wittenbrink, Oblates of Mary Immaculate, development director, were on hand to give a detailed description of the various scenes.

Following the tour, all gathered at the Shrine's visitor center for a buffet prepared by the RIS Club, a group of people instrumental in the success of the Radio Information Service.

Christmas caroling, accompanied by John Wiedlich, assistant program director, and entertainment by the staff and listeners, plus a surprise visit from the Collinsville Chapter of Sweet Adelines, completed the celebration.

Radio Information Service is an active segment of the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, 397-6700.

Yule music by pupils at Washington

"Christmas" and "The Little One" provided the themes of a program presented by vocal music students, under the direction of Miss Debbie Milton, at the Washington School gymnasium last week.

Students in the first grade classes of Mrs. Suzanne Lentz, Mrs. Darla Galbreath and Mrs. Joyce Rutledge and the second grade classes of Mrs. Sandi Peterson and Miss Shirley Sullivan sang "Must Be Santa."

A piano solo, "Silent Night," was played by David Noel, a sixth grade student.

Boys and girls in the sixth grade classes of John Hutchings and Leonard Rays presented "The Little One."

The performers were Joe Connor, Dennis Culver, Karen Diak, Monica Fanning, Robert Ficker, Lisa Lilley, James Marsh, David Noel, Tina Vasquez, Nancy Vincent and David Williams.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Parent-Teacher Association officers and committee members.

STEALS YULE GIFTS

A thief broke a window at the home of Steve Benko, 2800 Nameoki Drive, then reached through the window to remove as many Christmas gifts as he could reach. It was reported at 11:25 p.m. Friday. Police were told that three coffee makers and an electric blanket were among the stolen items, and that an inventory will be made to determine if anything else was stolen.

Childbirth classes

Prepared childbirth classes using the Lamaze method will begin Jan. 7 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Classes will be held beginning Jan. 7 for six consecutive Saturday afternoons (1-3:30 p.m.) in the University Center Ohio Room.

Classes are sponsored by the ABCDVD Rap Room, a student and community counseling and referral service at SIUE. The classes will be taught by Nina Gansmann, a childbirth educator. She is a member of the International Childbirth Education Association and the American Society for Psychophysics in Obstetrics.

According to Linda Todoroff of Granite City, a graduate student who is director of the Rap Room (892-3764), women must be in their third trimester of pregnancy to be eligible for the class. Instruction will be by the Lamaze or psychoprophylaxis in obstetrics methods.

She described the Lamaze method as "a method of childbirth that utilizes education and relaxation to decrease anxiety and fear."

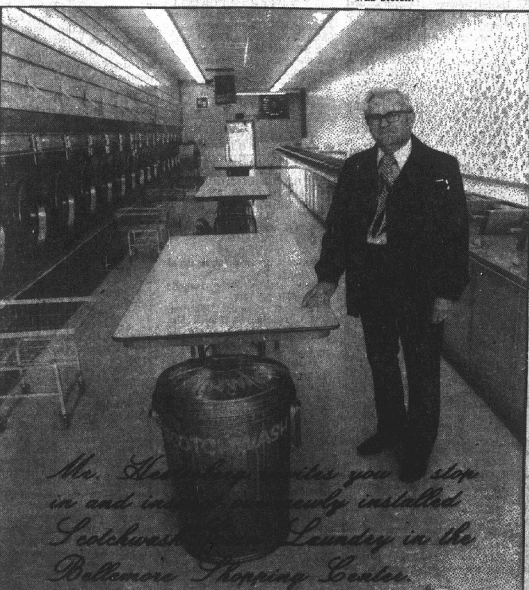

Goal of the program will be a safe delivery, both physically and psychologically for baby and parents.

Classes will include lessons in normal anatomy and physiology, what pregnancy is like, relaxation techniques and breathing exercises.

Women wishing to take the classes are to be encouraged to bring a coach to help them. The coach can be a husband, friend, mother, sister or any person who is close to the expectant mother.

The only necessities for the course are a blanket or sleeping bag and two pillows.

Registration for the classes is limited and there is a $25 fee.
